

EXECUTIVE PROFILE

Peter Unanue

*Executive Vice-President
Goya Foods, Inc.*

Peter Unanue was named Executive Vice President of Goya Foods Inc. in 2006 and is responsible for the expansion and relocation of Goya's 640,000 square foot, state of the art facilities to Jersey City and for implementing new technology and equipment for both its distribution and manufacturing facilities.

Prior to his current position, Peter was Vice President of Distribution and Logistics where he was responsible for the efficient operation of all of Goya's distribution centers in the United States. Under his leadership, Goya implemented an automated routing system for customer deliveries at all distribution centers and expanded its distribution capabilities throughout the United States.

Peter honed his logistics skills prior to joining Goya. As a Project Manager at Merck-Medco Managed Care, he formulated a flow-planning model to maximize prescription output across the company's mail order pharmacies. Prior to that, he was a Senior Logistics Analyst at Baxter Healthcare where he optimized shipping routes for the company's Northern California and New Jersey/New York regions.

Peter holds a master's degree in operations research from The George Washington University School of Engineering and Applied Science and a bachelor's degree in mathematics from Saint Thomas Aquinas College. He is a member of the Institute for Operations Research and Management Sciences (INFORMS). He sits on the board of the Meadowlands Regional Chamber of Commerce, President's Council at St. Thomas Aquinas College, and Council of Regents at Felician College. He and his wife Kimberly have five children.
